

We partner with companies as if we will own them forever.

Midwest values.

We are authentic, honest, and approachable. We communicate with openness.

With a will to win, fortitude and discipline, we do the right thing for our companies. Always.

We are humble and continue to learn every day. We are good listeners who ask great questions.

Patient and present.

We are a side-by-side partner for our portfolio companies. We do this better than anyone.

We invest in companies where we can make a difference by being flexible, creative, opportunistic and entrepreneurial. These qualities define our strategy, making us truly different.

Unmatched longevity and stability since 1961.

Our companies benefit from our earned wisdom and unprecedented perspective. Our legacy of building companies continues to shape who we are.

Since our founding, we have prospered through every market cycle. We have seen it all.

Affecting outcomes that drive sustainable value is what we do best. We generate superior results.

Business owner mindset.

We are excited for our companies' long-term vision and share their passion.

We respect and complement our companies' strengths, dig in, and offer resources to support and grow. We want what is best for their business.

Celebrating wins, both big and small, we help our companies achieve major thresholds of success.
